

WE'RE ALL IN THIS TOGETHER.

During these turbulent times, Synchrony® is here to help. We want to support you and your small business. This content series presents helpful resources and information you can use right away, on important topics, such as physical health and small business tips.

RESOURCES: WHERE TO TURN FOR ANSWERS

All of us, including small business owners and managers, are seeking answers and guidance, and the number of places to look is vast. Once you find information, it's often difficult to know if you can trust it to be accurate and up to date. Synchrony wants to provide you with reliable resources and information on topics that could be helpful to you.

Here are two resources that provide reliable information on Coronavirus (COVID-19) and basic steps you can take to help keep yourself, your family and your customers safe and healthy.

Working together for your success. Need more information on Synchrony's response? We're currently experiencing an unprecedented event, and there is no playbook. But know that Synchrony is with you every step of the way.

synchrony.com/coronavirus

From the CDC COVID-19: How to Protect Yourself

From the World Health Organization COVID-19 Information

This content is subject to change without notice and offered for informational use only. You are urged to consult with your individual advisors with respect to any information presented. ©2020 Synchrony. All rights reserved.